Hwange & The Pans

Victoria Falls, Hwange, Nata, Nxai, Maun, Central Kalahari

Our journey begins in the legendary wilderness of Hwange National Park, Zimbabwe's largest national park and a true haven for African wildlife. With vast open plains, woodland landscapes and an abundance of wildlife, Hwange offers incredible opportunities to encounter elephants, lions, buffalo, giraffes and many other species in their natural environment.

From Hwange, we cross into Botswana and make our way towards Nata, where the landscape begins to open up dramatically. This region is known for its vast salt pans, spectacular birdlife and endless horizons, offering a completely different perspective of Botswana's wild and untouched beauty.

Our adventure continues into Nxai Pan National Park, a remarkable wilderness of expansive grasslands, ancient baobabs and open plains. The area is especially known for its wildlife and dramatic seasonal landscapes, where huge herds of animals can gather and predators follow close behind.

The sheer openness of Nxai Pan creates a feeling of true wilderness and freedom.
From Nxai Pan, we travel towards Maun, the gateway to some of Botswana's most iconic wilderness areas. Situated on the edge of the Okavango region, Maun provides a fascinating contrast between a lively safari hub and the remote wilderness that surrounds it. It is the perfect place to experience the unique atmosphere of northern Botswana before continuing deeper into the wild.

The journey then takes us south into the vast and mysterious Central Kalahari Game Reserve. Here, the landscape changes once again as endless plains, thornveld and ancient Kalahari dunes stretch towards the horizon. This is a place of solitude, incredible sunsets and remarkable wildlife, where the silence and scale of the Kalahari create an unforgettable sense of adventure.
